

Third Party Integrations

Challenges

Being unable to manage electricity with the same care as traditional fuels. Relying solely on one charging network. Not knowing how to build upon an electric fleet pilot program.

Solution Overview

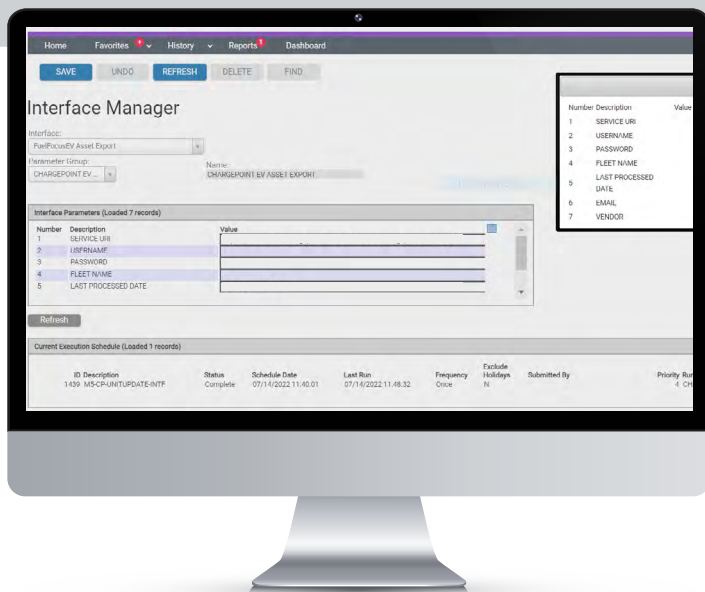

For modern fleets, investing in electric vehicles is just the beginning. AssetWorks FuelFocusEV allows fleet managers to maintain total control and visibility of their fleet data as technology pulls fleets to electric vehicles (EVs) and charging infrastructure. Teaming up with industry-leading EV charging hardware providers, AssetWorks has created a comprehensive software package to monitor, alert, and record all relevant data from your EV charging operations.

The software behind FuelFocusEV was designed to manage electric stations and obtain accurate charge session transactional data to provide valuable insight on the vehicle energy consumption within the fleet. FuelFocusEV integrated seamlessly with FleetFocus fleet management software.

This robust integration allows for fleet and facility managers to track electric energy distribution in tandem with traditional and alternative fueling. Charging session events are integrated automatically to eliminate manual data entry and errors. These events and costs are applied against the asset for analysis and historical reporting.

Key Features

- Automatic import of private and public charge transaction details, including:
 - Date and time of charge session
 - Actual time of charge VS plug-in time
 - Kilowatt per hour cost
- Visibility of the station port status
- Electric vehicle data sync with EV charging hardware providers' hardware and software technology

Benefits

Save time and money

Manage EV and charging session the same way you do traditional fuel, which provides significant time and cost savings

Calculate TCO

Access to all EV and charging data provides improved accuracy in calculating total cost of ownership

Improve efficiency

Eliminate dual entry of electric vehicle data with EV charging hardware providers

Understand energy consumption

Multiple report generating options help analyze overall energy consumption for the fleet

For more information, contact your AssetWorks Sales Representative or visit us online at assetworks.com.

AssetWORKS | FuelFocusEV